Bo Matthews, Superintendent

Dear Whom it May Concern,

It is my pleasure to strongly recommend Will Fant for this intended use. I am Belinda Dillon from Barren County Schools, I work with the afterschool programs across the district and with the summer camp programs. Through my years in the school system I have had the opportunity to watch many students grow from small kids in elementary school to their senior year of high school. Will has been one of our summer camp counselors for the past two summers, but before that he was a camper. Even as one of the older kids in camp he was always ready to help in any way he could. If a younger camper needed someone to play with or needed help on an activity he was there to help, but he was also helping a hand to staff as well. He would volunteer to help clean up or get something set up in any way he was needed. All these attributes I saw in Will as a child have stuck with him and gotten even better. Through the years I have gotten to see Will grow and mature into a young man that works hard. One of the best things I have been able to learn about him is if he puts his mind to something he is going to do it. Will exhibits determination that some people his age struggles with. Whether it be one of his hobbies, school, or soccer he puts in 100% effort. I also had the pleasure of having Will as an intern. Through this time together he showed how committed he is to any task at hand. Anytime I gave him something to do or any other staff member he immediately went to work on it, and completed it as soon as he could. Beside having a good work ethic Will is also a great person to have around. During his internship he was serious and got what he needed to get done, but he also knew how to have fun and cut up. Whether it was with another student or someone in the office. For me that is one of the best traits to have as a person. Besides maintaining good grades in school he also has thrown his love for soccer into the mix. Being part of the varsity soccer team Will was able to help lead his team to a winning season. This helps exhibit how much of a leader he is to his peers, and shows his ability to work as a team player. Will has many great qualities that make him the perfect candidate for anything that lies ahead of him.

Getting the opportunity to know Will and watch him grow not only as a student but also as an employee I would recommend him for a future job position. As a hard-working employee and a great team player, I am confident that he will be a valuable addition to any organization;.

Sincerely,

Belinda Dillon, Data Coordinator
